Imerys Carbonates is recognized for its sustainability commitment

Imerys Carbonates' commitment to sustainability was recently featured in Milliken Floor Covering division's Annual Sustainability Report. Milliken and Imerys Carbonates share the same goal of environmental stewardship. Imerys' ReMined® solutions provide a 100% recycled materials alternative to manufacturers, like Milliken who strive to develop excellent, sustainable products for consumers. Milliken's report highlights their product transparency, their commitment to 'do good,' and their ongoing focus on sustainability.

"We rely on Imerys Carbonates for clean pre-consumer recycled content. With their partnership, we're enhancing the holistic sustainability of our products without compromising their integrity," shared Philip Ivey, global sustainability leader for Milliken.
